

NSBI Welcomes New Board Member

Nova Scotia Business Inc. (NSBI) Chair Doug Hall and the Honourable Percy Paris, Minister of Economic and Rural Development, are pleased to announce the appointment of Scott Travers to NSBI's Board of Directors.

Scott, president and COO of Minas Basin Pulp and Power Co. Ltd., is an active member of Nova Scotia's business community—specifically in the Hants County region. Along with being a founding member of the Electrical Consumers Association of Nova Scotia, Scott is a director of Crown Fibre Tube; Scotia Recycling Ltd.; MaManna; CaribRegen; REIANS (Renewable Energy Industry Association of Nova Scotia); Artsco Consultant and Travers Homestead Properties. He is also past chairman and councillor of the Pulp and Paper Technical Association, and past director and vice chair for Nova Scotia Hearing and Speech Foundation.

Nova Scotia Business Inc. is Nova Scotia's private-sector-led business development agency. NSBI is the investment attraction arm of the province and helps businesses in Nova Scotia meet growth potential through advisory services, trade development, financing and venture capital.
